Geothermal Installation & Service Class

Mechanical Equipment Sales, Inc. is pleased to announce our next Geothermal Installation & Service class. The date will Monday, June 17th from 9:00am-1:00pm. This short, one day class will be instructed by Charles E. Elks Jr. P. E., an industry professional with over 35 years of experience with geothermal design and installation.

This class will cover the following subjects:

- Discussion on basic loop field designs.
- How to diagnose and correct problems related to water temperatures, pressures, and flow.

The class is designed to be interactive and, as such, Mr. Elks is requesting each attendee have about five questions in regards to geothermal that they would like to have answered. If possible, he would prefer to have the questions submitted with the registration form so he can properly prepare any materials beneficial to answering the questions. This will also ensure the class will have enough time to cover everything, as well as provide the optimal learning for all who attend. He wants to make sure that this class is designed around your needs.
